opening and give the first concert that evening.

The United States Hotel will open on Wednesday of next week, in order to entertain the delegates to the State Music Teachers' convention, this house being the official headquarters. On the Monday following the priests of the Albany diocese will come here for a week's retreat.

Visitors to the Reservation Commission have been to the old Congress spring arranged to serve the old Congress spring water in Congress Park, the same as in former years. Owing to trouble with the summer, last season, the spring was not used, but recently one of the springs was repaired and piped into the pavilion, where it will again be bubbling with all its vigor.

Many of those who form a part of the summer cottage colony have arrived and opened their establishments for the summer. This is one of the delightful features of summer life here, and each year the number increased.

SOCIAL EVENTS IN THE ADIRONDACKS

A Charity Ball To Be Given by the Girls' Club, a Village Organization.

Saranac Lake, N. Y., June 13.—A charity ball is to be given by the Girls' Club, a flourishing organization composed of the young women of the village. The ball will be given next Friday evening in the gymnasium of the Boys' Club Building, under the auspices of the ladies' auxiliary of the General Hospital, which is to receive the funds raised. Two teams have been chosen from the young ladies, with Miss Lina L. Pinn and Miss Anita Parsons as the captains. The team which will win the prize will receive a cup, which has been offered by the auxiliary.

The patronesses of the ball are the officers of the auxiliary and the wives of the trustees of the hospital and are Mrs. F. T. Tremble, Mrs. E. R. Baldwin, Mrs. W. J. Callahan, Mrs. Peter Sautenthaler, Mrs. Joseph Longworth Nichols, Mrs. Walter Johnson, Mrs. Charles M. Palmer, Miss Mary R. Prescott, Mrs. W. C. Leonard, Mrs. Charles C. Trembley, Mrs. R. M. Brown, Mrs. William Minshall, Mrs. Frank H. McKee, Mrs. Kenneth W. Goldthwaite, Miss Sophie Hoerner, Miss Campbell, Mrs. J. C. Russell, Miss Helen G. Malloch, Mrs. William F. Roberts, Mrs. Allen K. Krause and Mrs. Eugene Belmont.

Among the social events of the week were a dance by the Girls' Club on Tuesday evening and a meeting of the Young Ladies' Bridge Club, with Miss Marie Callahan, of Andover, N. H., as hostess. This evening there will be a baseball dinner at the Berkeley grill given to members and substitutes of the Saranac Lake High School team, in celebration of the winning of the Adirondack Intercollegiate League championship and the Johns Hopkins cup.

The first spring wedding of importance will take place next Monday afternoon at St. Luke's Episcopal Church, when Winifred Godfrey Nugent, of Virginia and Saranac Lake, will become the bride of Francis Barry Cantwell, one of Saranac Lake's barristers.

PAUL SMITHS.

Paul Smiths, N. Y., June 13.—The social outlook for the season is especially promising throughout the Adirondacks, and along the St. Regis Lake the round will be started on July 1, when many of the campers of the resort and prominent visitors from New York and New Jersey will meet to attend the wedding of Dr. Francis L. Truett, of Saranac Lake, and Miss Helen Garretson, of Morrisstown, N. J. The ceremony will take place in the picturesque log chapel here, and will be followed by an elaborate wedding breakfast at Paul Smiths' Casino. The Rev. Philipson E. Sturges, of St. Peter's Church, of Morrisstown, will officiate. This will start the usual round of camp dinners and luncheons, and as there will be a number of young people at the camps this season it is probable that many novel entertainments will be included.

The purchase of the Frederick Vanderbilt camp by Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Leo Pratt means that this beautiful property will be opened after two seasons of non-use. Mr. and Mrs. Pratt have inspected the changes being made, and will be up the latter part of the month, accompanied by their children, to remain for the season. Mrs. Adolf Ladenburg will undoubtedly take a prominent part in the social life of the St. Regis Lakes, as she has done in the past. Mrs. Leo Pratt, who is in camp, Mrs. Eugene Ladenburg will be in camp. Mr. and Mrs. George H. Earle, Jr., will not be at camp this season, as the younger members of the family are abroad. Mr. and Mrs. William W. McAlpin, of 11 West 20th st., New York, will be at Camp Wyandover this season, and are having a large launch house erected. Mr. McAlpin has been at camp, accompanied by William Fletcher Irwin, a son-in-law.

BARTLETT'S.

Bartlett's, N. Y., June 13.—The beautiful Saranac Club at Bartlett's Carry is to be opened this season under the management of J. H. Bartlett, of New York, and who has been here for some time arranging and improving the property. Several of the attractive cabins at the club have been leased and indications are that there will be a busy crowd here. The clubhouse is at Bartlett's Carry on the outlet of the Upper Saranac Lake and in one of the most beautiful sections of the Adirondacks. The house fishing, which opens on Tuesday, is excellent here and many large brook trout are going taking.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Rockefeller and family are again to occupy Douglass Point, the fine Adirondack place of Robert Douglass, and which is adjacent to the clubhouse. Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Jenkins, of New York, will occupy their camp on Round Lake this season as usual.

RAQUETTE LAKE.

Raquette Lake, N. Y., June 13.—All of the beautiful camps and summer homes which are found on the shores of Raquette Lake are to be opened this season and practically all of the large estates adjacent will be occupied. Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wynne Vanderbilt are expected to spend at least a part of the season at Sagamore Lodge in Sagamore Park and Camp Kibb Kare, they have leased to Frank Garvin, a son-in-law of the late Anthony M. Brady. Mrs. Lucy Carnegie is expected at North Point, her Swiss chalet, and Miss Anne Morgan has already entertained friends at Camp Uman, Ex-Governor Lounsbury of Connecticut was one of the first of the fishing contingent to arrive and will spend the season at his camp.

LAKE PLACID.

Lake Placid, N. Y., June 13.—Members of the Lake Placid Yacht Club are rearing their camps, and with the arrival of Commodore William K. Lyman, who will motor up to Camp Red Wing June 26, the annual schedule of sailing and powerboat races will be prepared.

Victor Herbert, who is recovering from the effects of an operation for appendicitis, will return to Camp Joyland soon, accompanied by Mrs. Herbert and their daughter, Miss Ella Herbert. They will be joined later by Clifford Herbert.

Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, who came up with his family this week, has gone to his camp on Buck Island, Lake Placid.

The Rev. Charles H. Parkhurst and Mrs. Parkhurst are at Repose Bungalow, on the heights above Mirror Lake.

Major Hamilton Rowan, U. S. A. (retired), accompanied by Mrs. Rowan and their son, Hugh Rowan, has gone to Camp Bivouac, on Lake Placid.

Cesar Cone, of Greensboro, N. C., who has leased the Guild cottage, on Signal Hill, is building a magnificent camp on Crawford Point, Lake Placid, which is included in his preserve of 200 acres. The camp, which is to cost $100,000, completed, will not be finished until next season.

Among those now negotiating for summer places here are Mr. and Mrs. William Faversham.

ELIZABETHTOWN.

Elizabethtown, N. Y., June 13.—Fishing and golf are the sports to which visitors here in the heart of Pleasant Valley are devoting their attention at the outset of the season, and they are having good success at both. Large strings of trout are brought in daily from the surrounding streams, and good scores are being brought in every little while from the improved links of the Cobble Hill Golf Club.

Among those especially fortunate at fishing during the last week was Charles E. Heydt, of New York, who, with his friends, Thomas W. Hall and Dr. A. A. Whitlock, of New Canaan, Conn., came up for the week-end at Deer's Head Inn, in company with Benjamin F. Stetson, Mr. Heydt and his friends returned from a trip into the back country with a fine string of trout. Visitors at the Windsor have been having remarkable success at trout fishing in the Windsor Farms pond, and fishing parties organized among the guests have become a popular form of sport.

There is much interest among the hotel visitors and cottage people alike in the make-up of this year's baseball team to contest for the Vida Millholland cup, donated at the outset of last season by a daughter of John D. Millholland, of New York, who has a ranch of about 1,000 acres just outside of Elizabethtown. Miss Millholland is the sister of the former Vida Millholland, now Mrs. Eugene Boesewald.

PORT KENT.

Port Kent, N. Y., June 13.—Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rowan, of New York, have opened their attractive summer home, Greystone, around which a cobblestone wall has just been built and other improvements made. Mr. and Mrs. Rowan, who are leaders in the Port Kent summer colony, will do much entertaining this season.

The Valcour cottage has been leased for the season by Dr. L. G. Pulte, of New York.

The Misses Newman, of Brooklyn, after an absence of four seasons, have opened their place on the bluff overlooking Lake Champlain.

WESTPORT.

Westport-on-Lake Champlain, N. Y., June 13.—During the week campers and cottage people have been arriving in considerable numbers, and with the opening of Westport Inn on June 29 this season will be well under way.

H. P. Smith, manager of the Inn, is also president of the Westport Automobile Club, and is busy with the plans of the club for the season.

Members of the Westport summer colony are doing some entertaining. Mr. and Mrs. Robertson Marshall, of New York, have Mrs. Henry Bacon, of New York, as their guest at Pine Ridge. Mrs. Bacon, who is very enthusiastic over motorboating, piloted one of the boats in the New York-Bermuda race two years ago.

KEENE VALLEY.

Keene Valley, N. Y., June 13.—Members of the Keene Valley cottage colony are beginning to arrive and occupy their summer homes in this secluded corner of the Adirondacks. James P. Atkinson and family have arrived at their cottage and Mr. and Mrs. N. Theodore Smith, of New York, are at their summer places.

Mrs. W. A. White, of New York, has arrived at the White cottage, where she will be joined later by the rest of her family and by A. T. White.

Miss Hillard, of New York, came up recently and opened her cottage, and Mrs. J. Ramey and daughters have arrived at their cottage.

J. H. McGee and family, of Morrisstown, N. J., have opened their cottage for the season, and Mrs. W. A. Pennington, of Jersey City, who also has a cottage here, is another recent arrival.

IN THE CATSKILL MOUNTAINS

A June Vacation in These Regions Has Many Things to Recommend It.

Stamford, N. Y., June 13.—While June, July and August are regarded as the vacation months and July and August are the months in vacation, there is a constantly increasing number of people who take their vacations earlier, some because they are compelled to take their vacations for business reasons, some because they find it possible to enjoy a vacation in May or June at a smaller expense than in July and August, and others because they prefer to take their vacation when they can recuperate, see the delightful scenery, enjoy the change of air and in a hammock, without listening to the noise and confusion characteristic of large resorts when the season is at its height.

June is really the prettiest month of the season at the resorts in the Catskills, and that this fact is becoming better known each season is shown by the number of people who are spending mid-June at the resorts throughout Ulster, Delaware and Greene counties.

There are no crowds at any of the resorts, but a glance at the streets in any of the villages in the Catskills will prove to the most pessimistic that there are hundreds in greater numbers than ever before enjoying their early vacation.

The season at Stamford is just opening up, although there have been nearly as many people here for the last two weeks as at the other resorts in the Catskills.

The outlook for a successful season at the hotels and boarding houses in this vicinity has never been brighter than at the present time, and it looks now as though it would be a brilliant season socially, as a number of important social functions will be held early in July at the larger houses.

Golf enthusiasts who have visited the course of the Country Club on the outskirts of the village are enthusiastic over the condition in which they have found it, and are confident that the tournaments that will be held here during the season will be among the most interesting that Stamford has ever seen.

FLEISCHMANN'S.

Fleischmann's, N. Y., June 13.—It has been very quiet at Fleischmann's since Memorial Day, but yesterday and to-day brought a few people to the hotels in this section of the Catskills, and during the last week there have been several of the cottagers arriving to open their summer homes, so the season is starting in at the usual time, although there will not be much activity here for the next two weeks.

One of the topics of conversation at the present time is the Fourth of July celebration, which the people of Fleischmann's are beginning to advocate, because Fleischmann's has always taken the lead among the cottages in the western Catskills in celebrating the national holiday.

While all of the people here agree on the fact that Fleischmann's should have a celebration on the Fourth, the opinions on the moving of the postoffice, which is another topic that is discussed to a considerable extent here, are not so unanimous.

The postoffice has been moved from its former location to the New Mountain Casino Building, and while it is more convenient for the summer visitors to Fleischmann's it is not so convenient to the business people and residents of the place, and there is considerable resentment being shown against the change.

H. B. Harris, of New York, has leased the Orson Fuller cottage, on Wagner av., and will occupy it during the season.

KINGSTON.

Kingston, N. Y., June 13.—Arrangements are under way for the establishment of a camp near Kingston, close by the first Binnewater Lake by the West Side branch of the Young Men's Christian Association in New York.

Here a camp will be maintained known as the Greenkill Camp, where the boys will have entire charge, except of the culinary arrangements, and where they will be taught how to swim, how to locate and pitch tents, how to cook over the open fire and how to apply first aid to the injured.

Dillon Wallace, the author and explorer, will give informal talks on woodcraft, as will also Colonel S. P. Montross, a chief of the Seneca tribe of Indians.

The boys will take twenty-four-hour hikes over the hills and through the woods, camping out over night, and will have an ideal summer, as the neighborhood selected for the camp is one of the most interesting sections of the Catskills.

CATSKILL.

Catskill, N. Y., June 13.—The increased travel to the Catskill mountain resorts by way of Catskill during the last week has made this famous resort seem busier than ever before in June, and as in addition to the people who are passing through here there are a number of people scattered among the different hotels and boarding houses, those familiar with Catskill think it is busier than it has been in the previous years in the early part of the season.

Everything around Catskill looks brisk and span this season, and the scenery seems more inviting than in past years, and if the lookings at the hotels can be depended on the season will be a very busy one.

The movement to have a safe and sane Fourth of July celebration here is meeting with a hearty reception, and will have the approval of the summer visitors, who will spend the Fourth at Catskill in large numbers.

Catskill, with other parts of the Catskills, will have some camping parties this season, the most important of which will probably be the camp maintained by the Camp Fire Girls, a New York City association, which will be opened somewhere in the vicinity of Catskill about July 1.

PINE HILL.

Pine Hill, N. Y., June 13.—There are not many summer visitors at Pine Hill up to the present time, but those who have been spending the last week here have enjoyed an ideal outing, because the weather has been unusually clear and pleasant.

There is considerable activity here, as the numerous hotels and boarding houses in this vicinity are being placed in readiness for the busy season, which will commence within two weeks.

It is expected that the season will be a busy one, because the cottage in the vicinity are all leased for the season and the hotels and boarding houses are making more reservations than in former years at this season.

The Weintraub Institute, at Highmount, is in readiness for its opening, the latter part of the month, and the presence in town of young men who summer there will be welcomed by the people of Pine Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Carr, of New York, have been spending a few days here getting their summer cottage in readiness for the season.

IN THE WHITE MOUNTAINS

Many New Yorkers Planning to Spend Time at New Hampshire Resorts.

White Mountains, N. H., June 13.—In making plans for the summer New York society people have divided rather evenly between hotels and the more intimate and homelike life in cottages, some of them being connected with the famous hotel colonies that insure the desired privacy and at the same time agreeable society and social and sporting events.

Of these, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Butler Twombly, who are spending the early season at their place in Spring Lake, N. J., will be among the early arrivals at As-You-Like It, their cottage at the New Profile House, in the Franconia Notch. Near neighbors will be Miss Nina Rhoades, the blind author, and her companion, who spent last summer travelling abroad, returning this year.

Dr. and Mrs. Frederic Warren Pearl, with their children, will spend the summer in England, where Mrs. Pearl's sister lives, but her mother, Mrs. John Stuart Duncan, and Miss Susie Duncan will motor to the hills as usual and join the hotel colony.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry K. McHarg, of Strawberry Hill, Stamford, Conn., who spent the winter in Berlin, where they participated in the brilliant social season, will be at the New Profile early in July to open their cottage. Mrs. McHarg has purchased a beautiful country place at Torquay, England, lately owned by the late Lord Mayor of London, and here in the spring and autumn she will enjoy a season of rest. It is likely that Paymaster Venable, of the lehen, has for years been their summer home.

Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Fink, of New York, are old patrons of the Maplewood, where their son, Charley Fink, is a strenuous member of the Maplewood Golf Club, and Murray Higgins, of Deal Beach, also spends most of the summer there. Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Andrews, and Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Chapman are among New Yorkers taking cottages for the season at the Maplewood.

Mr. and Mrs. Ruel W. Poore, of New York, will arrive early in Bethlehem, where they own an attractive summer home. W. I. Lincoln Adams, of New York, has a beautiful estate at Littleton, N. H., not far from the summer home, Three Oaks, of Judge Edgar Aldrich, Judge Aldrich and former Senator Spooner, of Wisconsin, both enjoy the early season trout fishing at Connecticut Lake, where the Judge has a bungalow and the Senator has a farm. Raising fine horses here is one of the latter's hobbies.

His son, Philip Spooner, the singer, usually comes here for a part of the summer.

It is rumored that Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Preston will not return from abroad to open their summer home at Tamworth this season, but that Mrs. Preston's mother may occupy it with Miss Cleveland. The beautiful avenue of trees planted on the Memorial Road leading to the estate of the late Grover Cleveland is flourishing and is a delightful reminder of the great man who so loved his New Hampshire home.

Herbert Witherspoon and Miss Marguerite Hall are two members of the musical colony at the Sunset Hill house, at Sugar Hill, where Miss Gertrude Kasebier usually spends a part of the summer. A notable rendezvous of the artistic and literary set there is the Nut Shell, the attractive studio cottage of Mr. and Mrs. J. William Fosdick, who have for so many summers lived at Sugar Hill.

Down on a high hill in Jackson, overlooking to little village beside the turbulent Wildcat River, is The Boulders, the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Ditson, of New York, where many New York society people are entertained from time to time during the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Tappin will join the John C. Tappin at the New Profile House for a part of the summer, and Mr. and Mrs. George Batcheller will also be there, as Mr. Batcheller's mother, Mrs. Francis N. Bangs, has for some years made it her custom to spend August amid her many friends at the Profile colony.

COOLING BREEZES AT LAKE GEORGE

Lake George, N. Y., June 13.—While New York has already commenced to simmer in the heat of summer, Lake George, swept by cooling breezes from the Adirondacks, laden with the scent of the forests which clothe the rugged mountains surrounding the lake, retains an invigorating atmosphere which is making its shores the mecca for hundreds of summer residents. For the past two weeks these have been arriving daily by the scores, and although the season is still young, resort activities have taken on an animation which causes hotel men to predict a most successful summer.

The international motorboat races will overshadow all other events this season. For the past nine years the Gold Challenge Cup has been won by various clubs on the St. Lawrence in races held at Alexandria Bay, but the victory last year of Count Casimir Mankowski's Ankle Deep resulted in bringing the races this year to Lake George for the first time. The count is an enthusiastic member of the summer colony here, and has spared no expense in the effort to keep the cup in the possession of the Lake George Regatta Association.

The remarkable performance of Earl Deakin's Hydro Bullet at the Savannah races, in addition to rumors of a dark horse in the way of the Lake George boat being built for the syndicate, has a guaranteed speed of fifty-two miles an hour, has been instrumental in inducing the count to make extensive alterations to his boat, which he is now sanguine is on an equal footing with any which may be entered. The result of the Ankle Deep speed trials at City Island a week ago has been kept secret, but motorboat fans will have an opportunity of judging her possibilities June 27, when she will race James Simpson's Peter Pan at Croton-on-the-Hudson.

Preparations are being made by the management of the Sagamore Hotel to provide accommodation for the hundreds of guests who will be attracted by the races to the point of the lake occupied by the hotel before its destruction by fire last spring, inasmuch as the start and finish lines lie directly opposite. The dormitory connected with the hotel, which escaped the flames, is being remodelled into a dining room and kitchen to be used in conjunction with the cottages located on the hotel property. A decision to rebuild the hotel itself this summer was made at a meeting of the stockholders last week, at which time Dr. William Meyer and A. L. Judson, of New York, were elected to head the reorganized hotel company. Negotiations are under way for the purchase of adjoining property for a golf course.

Numbers of new cottages started this spring are now nearing completion, including an attractive $15,000 bungalow for Dr. Meyer, a $20,000 garage for Count Mankowski and a colony of cottages on the site of the old Catskill Bay House for MacCourt Brothers, Inc., of New York.

That the lake is popular among the stage and opera favorites is evidenced by the recent arrival for the summer of Miss Louise Homer and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Danzel, the latter better known as Geraldine Farrar.

Mrs. Danzel is an enthusiastic fisherman and recently landed an eight pound speckled lake trout, the largest reported this season. Mme. Alma Gluck will open her cottage at Rockledge next week. Other recent arrivals from New York are Rev. Dr. E. M. Stires, pastor of St. Thomas's Church, who will spend the summer with his family at Brookhill Farm, and Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Shepard and family, who opened their cottage at West Meadow last week.

Mrs. L. D. Demmons is at Deep Dene estate; Mr. and Mrs. E. Stiglitz at Oak Lawn cottage, and Mrs. F. W. Small and children are at the Pines.

One of the first of the summer colony to entertain is Miss Helen Stimpson, of Philadelphia, who has as her guests eight members of the graduating class of Vassar College.

5,000 Panama Hats for Women and Misses In a Sale Extraordinary at $1.95 to $3.95.

ANTICIPATING MONTHS AGO the unprecedented demand there would be this Summer for Panama Hats for women and misses, we began buying all the good Panamas we could get at the low prices that then prevailed—with the result that this store can afford to sell at lower prices than any other establishment in the city, and takes pleasure in proving the fact in this wonderful sale.

To cap the climax there came to us last week ninety dozen pure white Danvers to add to our already incomparable stock, and we decided to let them go at like low figures. They are all pure white bleached, all hand blocked, in smart outing or untrimmed styles.

Special tables, special attendants, Main aisle, center, Street floor, East Building.

Women's $7.00 and $8.00 Trimmed Panamas at $3.95.

ONLY 300 OF THESE, so come before they disappear, as they will vanish quickly. All beautiful, snowy white, pliable Hats, in smart outing styles. There are telescope crowns or sailor styles, trimmed with black velvet ribbon and a rose. All have the leather sweat bands. None sent C. O. D. Store orders only. Extra saleswomen to give prompt attention.
